

PSD HK-LRC HONORS NATIONAL BOOK WEEK
by Ryan Rei Bienes

PSD Harry Kieswetter Learning Resource Center celebrated the 90th National Book Week celebration with the theme, 'Read, Dream, Celebrate' through a book fair at the PSD Ground floor hallway, and various competitions held at the PSD HK-LRC Library and PSD Audio-Visual Room from November 3-20.

The vice principal of the Quality Assurance and Accreditation Department and officer-in-charge for the school principal Dr. Lorina S. Villanueva gave her opening remarks during the book week culmination program where she recognized the efforts of those who actively participated in the programs, projects, and contests adapted by the library. She also emphasized the value of the library and its resources—both print media and digital materials. She mentioned,

“Acknowledge the fact that books are our friends, not only books but also the electronic materials that we have available in the library.”

Additionally, Echoes of the Heart Season 2: Shakespearean Edition, with the theme 'Voices of Love, Loss, and Despair through Shakespeare's Characters,' was held in collaboration with Dr. Wama A. Jorbina. Amid the program, the Grade 9 performers delivered a dramatic monologue as they brought Shakespeare's characters to life.

Furthermore, the Grade 10 students, led by Mrs. Riza P. Constantino, performed 'Shades of Humanity' as part of the book week celebration. The Shades of Humanity delved into moral dilemmas, inner conflicts, and transformative journeys, as portrayed through the timeless narratives of Les Misérables and Crime and Punishment.
